DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claims 5-14 are objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c) as being in improper form because a multiple dependent claim cannot depend on another multiple dependent claim. See MPEP § 608.01(n). Accordingly, the claims 5-14 have not been further treated on the merits.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. A broad range or limitation together with a narrow range or limitation that falls within the broad range or limitation (in the same claim) is considered indefinite, since the resulting claim does not clearly set forth the metes and bounds of the patent protection desired. See MPEP § 2173.05(c). Note the explanation given by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in Ex parte Wu, 10 USPQ2d 2031, 2033 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 1989), as to where broad language is followed by "such as" and then narrow language. The Board stated that this can render a claim indefinite by raising a question or doubt as to whether the feature introduced by such language is (a) merely exemplary of the remainder of the claim, and therefore not required, or (b) a required feature of the claims. Note also, for example, the decisions of Ex parte Steigewald, 131 USPQ 74 (Bd. App. 1961); Ex parte Hall, 83 USPQ 38 (Bd. App. 1948); and Ex parte

Hasche, 86 USPQ 481 (Bd. App. 1949). In the present instance, claim 2 recites the broad recitation “angles A and B is between 4^o and 10^o”, and the claim also recites “preferably between 6^o and 8^o, which is the narrower statement of the range/limitation.

2. Claims 3 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Claims 3 and 4 both recite “flexible adjacent layer into which the reinforcing wire is able to penetrate”, however, claim 1 recites “two cross armor plies consisting of wire wound helically”. It is not clear if the flexible adjacent layer and the armor plies are the same layers.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by U.S.

5,934,335 to Hardy

The patent to Hardy discloses a flexible pipe comprising, from the inside to the outside, an inner polymer sheath (2), at least two crossed armor plies (4) consisting of windings wound helically at opposing lay angles close to 55 and an outer polymer sheath (5) wherein there also is disclosed a winding (3) with contiguous edges of the strip (fig. 3), with high mechanical properties and that the lay angles of the reinforcements are not equal. It is disclosed, col. 1, that the reinforcements have lay angles complementary from one layer to another, for example, a layer at 50° associated a layer at 60°, as recited in claims 1 and 2.

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The patents to Dupoirion, Seguin et al., Jerrin et al., Bournazel et al., Briggs, Keister, Jung et al., Abdullaev et al '631 and '034, Sugier et al, Herrero et al. '109 and '439, Jung et al., and Feret et al. are all pertinent to Applicant's invention in disclosing armoured hoses having at least two plies that are oppositely wound.
